

The New Jersey Do Not Call List is a resounding success. I no longer receive unwanted solicitations via the phone. Just because I have done business with someone in the last 18 months does not mean I should have to be bothered with their phone calls. If I want someone to call, I will tell them. Otherwise, they can contact me via the mail if they have something they need to tell me or want to sell me. I urge you to not overturn NJ's "Do Not Call" law.
